

DAVID TENZER

PRINCIPAL

GLENN
FELDMANN
GLENN FELDMANN DARBY & GOODLATTE

The pace at which business needs change is getting faster every day and David's practice focuses on staying in front of these changes.

David works closely with his clients, ranging from publicly traded companies to small startup ventures, to help them successfully grow their businesses, and to navigate the risks inherent in today's ever changing business environment.

Whether working with commercial landlords or emerging biotech firms, David helps position his clients to obtain and maintain success. From mergers and acquisitions and venture capital financing, to negotiating software license agreements, and commercial real estate leases, David prepares his clients to seize opportunity and conquer challenge.

T. 540.224.8037

F. 540.224.8050

E. dtenzer@glennfeldmann.com

EDUCATION

University of Virginia (1990)
Northeastern University School of Law (1993)

EXPERIENCE

Glenn, Feldmann, Darby & Goodlatte (1998-present)
Mary Baldwin College (Past Adjunct Professor of Business Law)
Adler Rosen & Peters, P.C. (1994-1998)

ASSOCIATIONS

Roanoke Bar Association
American Bar Association
The Roanoke – Blacksburg Technology Council

AUTHORSHIP

New Year, New Company
Buy-Sell Agreements – Every Business Needs One
Top Three Issues Entrepreneurs Miss When Forming a New Business

CIVIC INVOLVEMENT

State appointment to serve on the Virginia Israel
Advisory Board (2004 – present)
Jefferson Center Foundation (past Chairman)
(Executive Committee 2010 – present)
The Sam and Marion Golden Helping Hand
Foundation (Board of Directors and Treasurer)
Beth Israel Synagogue (Past Board of Directors, Vice President and President)
Food for Thought Advisory Board